Businesses – that sap our passions. KEY TAKEAWAYS: How entrepreneurship can lead to a false sense of freedom – and how having money can buy happiness (hint: it has nothing to do with designer clothes or expensive cars). MJ DeMarco said IT… "Unfortunately, the market doesn’t care about your passion. And in a few short years, it can be yours as well. That’s right, you won’t need 5 decades of thankless jobs, mind-numbing frugality, and patient investing with our trusted friends on Wall Street. Unfortunately, you’ve been SCRIPTED to believe that such a life is out of your reach, or only possible for a certain type of person. Someone with a certain college degree, a certain amount of VC funding, or a certain contact list of connected friends from Stanford. I’m here to tell you, that none of it’s true.

Life. Liberty. And the pursuit of entrepreneurship. It's awaking in the morning and pinching yourself black-and-blue—that OMG, this is my life, and it's freaking awesome. You live in your dream house, but there's no mortgage. No alarm clock, no boss, no bills. No claims on the day’s time other than what you choose. It’s making more money before breakfast than you made for an entire week at your last job. It’s a crazy expensive car parked in your garage, a victorious symbol that your dreams no longer sleep in fantasies, but are awake with reality. Make no mistake, this life exists. I know, because it’s been mine for nearly 20 years. And in a few short years, it can be yours as well. That’s right, you won’t need you’ve been SCRIPTED to believe that such a life is out of your reach, or only possible for a certain type of person.
