References/ Bibliography:

A. Books:-

1. LEYDEN, Rudolf von, Indian Gajifa (Craft Museum Library, New Delhi)
3. Art of India & Persia, AnisFarooqi, NQ, 44, L6 (Indian Council Of Historical Research, New Delhi)
4. Art and Material Culture in Painting of Akbar’s Court, NQ, 44, J, L8 (Indian Council of Historical Research, New Delhi)
8. MANN, Sylvia, All Cards on the Table, Jonas Verlag, 1990.
11. Sasha - craft for contemporary living, Vasudha Joshi
14. Encyclopedia Britannica article Cards, playing, 1911
15. The History of Playing Cards discussed in 1987 by Roger Somerville
16. "Conservation problems of DashavataraGanjifa cards of Bishnupur”, Author: Dutta, Pankaj Kumar,
18. Leyden, Rudolf von; The Indian Playing Cards of Francis Douce and the Ganjifa Folios in the Richard Johnson Collection; in: Bodleian Library Record, Oxford 1981, 10, 5, p. 297-304

B. Magazing / Short Notes / Review:-

1. MamtaKapoor, Featured in Harmony Magazine, December 2004
3. Short note, Dr. PramilaLochan, (IGNCA SRC)
4. Volume 1 of: A catalogue of the Cary Collection of Playing Cards in the Yale University

6. Deodhar, A. B.; Illustrated Marathi Games; Bombay 1905

7. Leyden, Rudolf von; The Playing Cards of South India; in: The Illustrated Weekly of India, 3.Okt. 1954

8. Leyden, Rudolf von; Ganjifa - the playing cards of India … Victoria & Albert Museum collection; London 1982 (V&A Museum) [Exhibition catalogue]

C. Electronic Media / Websites:-

1. In search of a playing card Dasavatargasjifa, A documentary Film, Produced & Directed by: Ajoy Konar. Duration: 35 minutes, Format: MPEG II/DVD Language: English.

2. www.szcc.tn.nic.in/ART-kar-Ganjifa.htm
5. www.freersacklershop.com/gacaga.html

6. www.craftrevival.org

7. www.harmonyindia.org

8. www.thecoed.com

9. www.pagat.com

10. www.craftart.com

11. www.craftinindia.com

12. www.ignca.nic
Mysore traditional painting. Indian Traditional Paintings. Indian Paintings. Traditional Art. By purchasing and playing with these handpainted traditional Ganjifa-style cards, you are preserving an age-old style of card painting from India that is now a dying art. A truly unique collectors' item, you won't find these anywhere else. $169.95 on MyMela.com. They approached painting with an objective of expressing themselves. From their time onward, many painters strove to freely express their feelings and to capture the inner spirit of their subject instead of describing its outward appearance. The northern Song emperors were enthusiastic patrons of the arts. Huizong, perhaps the most knowledgeable of all Chinese emperors about the arts, was himself an accomplished calligrapher and a painter chiefly of birds and flowers in the realistic tradition. On the other hand, painters known as Individualists rebelled against many of the traditional rules of painting and found ways to express themselves more directly through free brushwork. The most outstanding of them is a group of Four Monks. Ganjifa, an ancient Indian card game, was historically believed to have been brought to India and popularised during the Moghul period. The Persian word ‘Ganjifeh’ means playing cards and these were the foremost artistic creations used for playing cards, more so in princely States where kings patronised the art and the artists. The cards were typically circular, although some rectangular decks have also been part of the artists’ imaginations. This was a game popularly played by post-Medieval Kings and noblemen that spread to many regions in the country. The colour and iconography changed with Swarna Raja’s Ganjifa Painting, Bangalore, India. 1,654 likes · 7 talking about this. ‘Ganjifa’ is the name given to an ancient Indian card game. They... Learning this art style with detail instruction under the Guidance of Academy of Traditional Art And Painting Classes Courses: Tanjore & Kerala Mural Art Registrations open now for our online courses. Avail your early bird discount today! Get up to 40% off!