Summary/Abstract: Domination in South Asia is explained by double prisms of foreign colonialism and the caste system. But in my hypothesis a much more dangerous form of domination exists that has for long gone unnoticed. There is highly sophisticated and deeply entrenched form of domination: competition between we can call Predator Nations.

Jeffrey Beall, a librarian at the University of Colorado in Denver, first coined the term "predatory journals" and maintained a listing of predatory journals which was later taken down. Cabeil's International launched a revised version of the list called Cabell's Blacklist, which can be accessed for a fee at the company's website. With over 4,000 predatory journals (according to Cabell's Blacklist), here are a few things to look out for and signs that give away a bogus journal. What is a pred... The Indian prime minister says the measure helps persecuted minority migrants. But students and teachers at the predominantly Muslim university are protesting the bill, which they say will exclusively target Muslims. Over the course of three days, the police and protesters clashed at the university. Some protesters were armed with sticks and rocks. But the protests were largely peaceful. India has not made its decision public. India is among 62 countries that have moved a proposal at the World Health Assembly to "identify the zoonotic source" of the coronavirus and asked for an "impartial, independent and comprehensive evaluation" of the WHO's response to Covid-19. China and the US are not part of the resolution. The proposal is part of a seven-page draft resolution moved by 35 countries and the 27-member European Union, and is likely to be taken up on Monday at the Assembly, which is the decision-making body of the WHO. But Pakistan, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Maldives and Afghanistan are not signatories to the resolution. From the SAARC nations, only Bangladesh and Bhutan have signed up. https://images.indianexpress.com/2020/08/1x1.png.
